FOLD ACCESSORIES

---

SEE THE WHOLE

One icon, many facets: With the FOLD product series, designer Martin Steiner embodies them all. Varieties of a convolution.

To combine aesthetics and functionality, to reduce forms to the essentials and getting to the point: This is what has always fascinated and moved designer Martin Steiner.

Even with the wealth of ideas, he always thinks of a holistic approach. The award-winning kitchen FOLD, which deviates from any standardized form structure and is completely new as a spatial sculpture path, further elements should follow in the sense of the holistic approach, the scene to play on.

„For me it's always the big picture that counts, it must be right. Goal of good design and Architecture should be a place to stand out, able to serve the users and embellishing their lives. That is the claim at everything we do“

Martin Steiner, CEO and lead designer.

Furniture and accessories are designed showing the crease as special design feature to their common and make brand. A world of style, in which harmonizes one element with another: The kitchen with the tray, the table with the vase, and especially, also the architecture of Martin Steiner.

The scale itself plays only a subordinate role here. Rather, it is important to have a coherently designed solution from the architecture to the product to the accessory, and also to be able to offer a collection.

In addition to the FOLD C-table, Martin Steiner has designed a collection of accessories that reflects the spirit of the kitchen in other rooms. The vases, trays and candleholders are the DNA of the FOLD itself and it is recognizable. They are not in competition with each other at all but complete the effort to create a coherent world of forms that has no end and no beginning.

POWER OF FORM

The FOLD vase series is the first product of an accessory family that exploits the design potential of the kitchen at the same name and is to be understood as its creative extension. Narrow linked to the design of the kitchen, four independent types of vases developed, which were created in different dimensions and shapes are repeatedly adapted to the design principle. Mirror of their origin. The folding and the edge take on a special meaning, shape the character of the entire series with a total of four models in three sizes and in six different metal surfaces: from tombac to nickel to copper. By means of special technology, the metal is milled out of one piece and then folded. In this way, each single vase is unique with its high-quality design.
